THE London Journal

SATURDAY, February 17. 1721.

To the Author of the LONDON JOURNAL.

SIR,

Shall ſhew in this Paper, that neither the Chriſtian Religion, nor Natural Religion, nor any thing elſe that ought to be call'd Religion, can ſubſiſt under Tyrannical Governments, now that Miracles are ceas'd. I readily confeſs, that ſuch Governments are fertile in Superſtition, in wild Whimſies, deluſive Phantoms, and ridiculous Dreams, proper to terrify the human Soul, degrade its Dignity, deface its Beauty, and ſtrew it with ſlavish and uſeleſs Fears, to render it a proper Object of Fraud, Grimace, and Impoſition; and to make Mankind the ready Dupes of gloomy Impoſtors, and the tame Slaves of raging Tyrants. Servitude eſtabliſh'd in the Mind, is beſt eſtabliſh'd.

But all theſe bewilder'd Imaginations, theſe dark and deceitful Horrors, which ſtupify Reaſon, and contract and imbitter the Heart; what have they to do with true Religion, unleſs to deſtroy it? —— That Religion, which improves and enlarges the Faculties of Men, exalts their Spirits, and makes them brave for God and themſelves; that Religion, which gives them great and worthy Conceptions of the Deity; and that Religion, which inſpires them with generous and beneficent Affections to one another, and with univerſal Love and Benevolence to the whole Creation. No Man can love God, if he loves not his Neighbour; and whoever loves his Neighbour, will neither injure, revile, nor oppreſs him: Nor can we otherwiſe ſhew our love to God, than by kind, humane and affectionate Actions to his Creatures: A new Commandment, ſays our bleſſed Saviour, I give unto you, that ye love one another.

Almighty God, the great Author of our Nature and of all Things, who has the Heavens for his Throne, and the Earth for his Footſtool, is raiſed far above the Reach of our Kindneſs, our Malice or our Flattery. He derives infinite Happineſs from his own infinite Perfections; nor can any frail Power or Actions of ours affect or improve it: Religion therefore, from which he can reap no Advantage, was inſtituted by him for the ſake of Men, as the beſt Means and the ſtrongeſt Motive to their own Happineſs, and mutual Happineſs; and by it Men are taught and enjoined to be uſeful, aſſiſting, forgiving, kind and merciful one to another. But to hate, diſcountenance or hate one another for his ſake, and in Defence of any Religion, is a flat Contradiction to his Religion, and an open Defiance of the Author of Religion: And to control theſe Belief and Opinions, which do not immediately and neceſſarily produce practical Vices and ſocial Diſorder, is exactly wicked and abſurd. This is to be wicked in behalf of Righteouſneſs, and to be cruel out of Piety. A Religion which begets Selfiſhneſs and Partiality only to a few, and to its own Followers, and which inſpires Hatred and Outrage towards all the reſt of the World, can never be the Religion of the Immortal and Impartial Maker and Judge of the World. Governments are only to for a part of Religion, as they promote the moral Duties of Religion, general Peace and mutual Charity, publick Spirit, Bounty, Forbearance, and good Deeds to all Men: And the worſhip of God is no longer the Worſhip of God, than as it warms our Minds with the Remembrance of his gracious Condeſcenſion, his indulgent Care, Bounty and Providence, exerciſed towards us; and as it raiſes and inlarges our Affections to an imitation of ſuch his divine and unreſtrain'd Goodneſs, and to uſe one another kindly by his great Example, who uſes us all ſo. So that our worthy, tender and beneficent Behaviour to one another, is the beſt way to acknowledge him to us: It is the moſt acceptable way we can worſhip him, and the Way he will beſt accept our Worſhip: And whatever Devotion has not this Effect, or a contrary Effect, is the dry or mad Freaks of an Enthuſiaſt, and ought to be call'd by another and a proper Name.

This is a general Idea of true Religion, and theſe are the certain and only Marks of it: all which, as it is oppoſite to the Eſſence and Spirit of an arbitrary Government; ſo every arbitrary Government is an Enemy to the Spirit of true Religion, and defeats its Ends. In theſe Governments, in Defiance of Religion, Humanity and common Senſe, Millions muſt be miſerable to exalt and embelliſh one or a few, and to make them proud, arrogant and great: Protection and Security, are no more; the Spirit of the People is ſunk; and their Induſtry diſcourag'd and loſt, or only employ'd to feed Luxury and Pride; and Multitudes ſtarve, that a few may riot and abound. All Love to Mankind is extinct, and Virtue and publick Spirit are dangerous or unknown; while Vice, Falſhood and ſervile Sycophancy become neceſſary to maintain precarious Safety and an ignominious Life: And, in fine, Men live upon the Spoils of one another, like ravenous Fiſhes and Beaſts of Prey: They become rapacious, brutiſh and ſavage to one another, as their cruel Governours are to them all; and at a further Imitation of ſuch Maſters, their Souls are abject, mean, and villainous. To live upon Prey, and worry human Race, is the Genius and Support of Tyrants, as well as of Wolves and Tygers; and it is the Spirit and Practice of Men to reſemble their Governours, and to act like them. Virtue or Vice in Courts, runs like Water in a continued Deſcent, and quickly overflows the inferior Soil.

Turpe Lezna ſuperi, &c.

Now, what can be found here to anſwer the Spirit and Precepts of the Chriſtian Religion, which is all Love, Charity, Meekneſs, mutual Aſſiſtance, and mutual Indulgence; and muſt either deſtroy Tyranny, which deſtroys all theſe, or be deſtroy'd by it? A Religion given by God to inſpire Men with every ſocial Virtue, and to furniſh them with every Argument for ſocial Happineſs, will never find Quarter, much leſs Protection from a Government, which ſubſiſts by an unrelenting War againſt every Virtue, and all human Felicity. On the contrary, all its divine Doctrines ſhall be perverted, all its divine Principles mangled, and both its Principles and its Precepts unreſpected, diſguſt'd and perſecuted, to be made Inſtruments of the Court: Truth will be made to patronize Impoſtures, and Meekneſs to ſupport Tyranny: Obedience to equal Laws, and ſubmiſſion to juſt Authority, ſhall be turn'd into a ſervile and crouching Superſtition to blind Rage and inhuman Fury; compliſance and reſpectful Behaviour into ſlavish Flattery, and ſupple Homage to Power; Meekneſs and Humility into Dejection, paucity of Spirit, and bodily Proſtrations; Charity, Benevolence and Humanity into a lazy and extravagant Tool, to propagate Indiſcernible and guiltleſs Oppreſſors: Chriſtian Courage ſhall be chang'd into Cowardy and brutiſh Violence; impartial Juſtice into ſavage Severity, Proteſtion into Oppreſſion and Plundering, the Fear of God into the Fear of Men, and the Worſhip of the Deity, into an idolatrous Adoration of a Tyrant.

Though

Though God Almighty first his only Son into the World to teach his Will to Men, and to confirm his Mission by Wonders and Miracles, yet, having once fully manifested himself and his Law, he has left it to be propagated and carried on by human Means, only according to the Holy Writings inspir'd by him; and if the Powers of the World will not submit to those Directions, and will neither pursue them themselves, nor suffer their Subjects so pursue them, nor leave them the Means of doing it; then the Christian Religion must take the Fate of all Sublunary Things, and be lost from amongst Men, unless Heaven interpose again miraculously in its Favour. Now the Experience of all Ages will convince us, that all Tyrannical Princes will be against the Religion, which is against them; and either abolish it, or, which is much worse, pervert it into a deadly and unnatural Enemy, to encrease and defend that Pride and Power, which Christianity abhors; and to promote those Evils and Miseries, which Christianity forbids, and were it left to itself, would prevent or relieve. A Religion modelled by usurp'd Power, to countenance Usurpation and Oppression, is as opposite to the Christian Religion, as Tyranny is to Liberty, and Wickedness to Virtue. When Religion is taught to speak Courtier-Language, and none are suffer'd to preach it, but such as speak the same Dialect; when those who are Ministers of the Gospel, must be also the Ministers of Ambition, and either sanctify Falsehood and Violence, by the Word of Mercy and Truth, or hold their Tongues; when Preferments and worldly Honours are on the side of Imposture; and Gaols, Racks, and Dungeons are the Rewards of Conscience and Piety, the Good and Efficacy of Christianity will be as effectually gone, as if it were formally exchang'd for Mahometanism; and under those Circumstances if its Name is retain'd, it is only retain'd to do Evil, and might be as properly banish'd with the Thug. The Christian Religion has as rarely gain'd by Courts, as Courts have improved by the Christian Religion; and Arbitrary Courts have seldom meddled with it, but either to persecute it as debase and corrupt it; nor could the Power and Fury of Tyrants ever hurt or weaken it so much as their pretended Favours and Countenance have done: By appearing for it they arm'd their Power most effectually against it. Their avowed Persecution of Christianity, did only destroy Christians; but afterwards, while they set up for protecting none but the true Christians, that is, those that were as bad as themselves, and having no Religion of their own, adopted blindly the Religion of their Prince; and for punishing all who were not true Christians, that is, all that were better than themselves, and would take their Religion from no Man's Word, but only from the Word of God; they hired Christians against Christians, and disgrac'd, undermin'd and hasten'd Christianity it self, by false Friendship to its Professors; and these Professors thus corrupted, joining a Holy Title to an impious Cause, encourag'd in the Conspiracy, and contended fiercely in the Name of Christ for secular Advantages, which Christ never gave nor took, and for a secular Sovereignty, which he rejected, and his Gospel forbids. Thus one sort of Tyranny was artfully made to support another, and both by a Union of Interests maintain'd a War against Religion under Colour of defending it, and fought the Author of it under his own Banners; that is, as Dr. Tillotson finely says, they lied for the Truth, and kill'd for God's Sake.

The many various and ineradicable Opinions of weak Enthusiasts, or of designing Men, and all the different and repugnant Interpretations of Scripture, publish'd and contended for by them, could have done but small Prejudice to Religion and Society, if human Authority had not interpos'd with its Penalties and Rewards, annex'd to the believing or not believing fantastical Speculations, useless Notions, dry Ideas, and the inconsistent Reveries of disorder'd Brains; or the selfish Inventions of usurping Popes, ambitious Synods, and turbulent and aspiring Doctors; or the crafty Schemes of discontented or oppressive Statesmen: For all these have been the important Causes and the wicked Fund of religious Wars and Persecutions.

It is so much the general Interest of Society to perform and to encourage all its Members in perform the Practical Duties of Religion, that if a stronger and more prevailing Interest were not thrown by Power into the contrary Scale, there would be no Difference amongst Men about the Nature and Extent of their Duties to Magistrates, to Parents, Children, and to Friends and Neighbours: And if those social Duties (the only Duties because Society, as such, is concern'd to promote) were agreed upon and practis'd, the Magistrate would have no more to do with their Opinions than with their Shape and Complexion; nor could he know, if he would, by what Method to alter them. No Man's Belief is in his own Power, or can be in the Power of another.

The utmost Length the Power of the Magistrate can in this Matter extend, beyond that of Exhortation, which is in every Man's Power, can be only to make Hypocrites, Slaves, Fools or Atheists. When he has forced his Subjects to hide their Confessions, or to act against them, he has in effect driven them out of all Religion, to bring them into his own; and when they that see and feel the protected Defender of Religion overturning all its Precepts, exhorting by Bribes, and rebuking by Scripts, Confiscations, and Dungeons, and making Christianity the Instrument of Fury, Ambition, Rapine and Tyranny; what can they think, but either that he is no Christian, or that Christianity is not true? If they come to suspect it of Imposture, they grow Infidels; and if they grow into a Belief that Religion countenances Barbarity, Outrage, and Severities, nay commands them, they become Rogues, the worst and most mischievous Characters of the Times: For, Unbelievers, guided by the Rules of Prudence, or good Nature, may be good Neighbours and inoffensive Men; but Bigotry, flowing upon the Issues of Reason, and being conducted by no Light but that of an inflamed Imagination, and a false, lame, and narrow Spirit, there is no Violence nor Barbarity which it is not capable of willing or acting.

Happiness is the chief End of Man, and the saving of his Soul is his chief Happiness; so that every Man is most concern'd for his own Soul, and more than any other can be: And if no Obstruction is thrown in his Way, he will for the most Part do all in his Power for his own Salvation, and will certainly do it best; and when he has done all that he can, he has done all that he ought: People cannot be saved by Force, nor can all the Powers in the World, together, make one true Christian, or convince one Man. Conviction is the Province and Effect of Reason, and when that fails, nothing but the Grace of God can supply it: And what has the Power and Penalties of Men to do either with Reason or Grace, which being both the Gifts of God, are not to be conquered by Whips and Chains, tho' they may be weakened, and even banished by worldly Allurements blended with Christianity, and by the worldly Pride of its Professors.

The Methods of Power are repugnant to the Nature of Conviction, which must either be promoted by Exhortation, Kindness, Example and Arguments, or can never be promoted at all: Violence does on the contrary but provoke Men, and confirm them in Error; nor will they ever be brought to believe that those who barbarously rob them of their present Happiness, can be charitably concern'd for their future.

It is evident in Fact, that most of the different religious Institutions, now subsisting in the World, have been founded upon Ambition and Pride, and were advanced, propagated, and established by Usurpation, Faction and Oppression: They were begun for the most Part by Enthusiasts, or by designing and unpreferred Churchmen; or at least occasion'd by the continued Usurpations and Insults of cruel and oppressive ones, and always in Times of Faction and general Discontent. Turbulent and aspiring Men, discarded and discontented Courtiers, or ambitious and designing Statesmen have taken Advantage from these general Disorders, or from the hot and giddy Spirits of an enthusiastical or oppressed People; and from hence have form'd Parties, and setting themselves at the Head, form'd National Establishments with the Concurrence of weak Princes, and sometimes in Opposition to them, by the Assistance of factious Clergymen and factious Assemblies, and often by Tumults and popular Insurrections; and at last under Pretence of saving Men's Souls, they seiz'd their Property. A small Acquaintance with Ecclesiastical History, and the History of the Turks and Saracens will shew such Causes as these to have given Rise to most of the National Religious Establishments upon Earth: Nor can I see how any Same ones can arise by other Means, whilst Violence and worldly Interest have any Thing to do with them.

Such therefore, as is the Government of a Country, such will be its Religion; and no body, I hope, is now to learn what it, and ever will be the Religion of most Statesmen, even a Religion of Power, to do as little Good, and as much Mischief as they please: Nor have Church-men, when they rul'd States, had ever any other view; but having double Authority, hold generally double Intolerance; and remarkably less Mercy and regard to Conscience or Property, than others who had fewer Tyes to be Merciful and Just. And therefore the fiercest Tyrants have been they, who united in one Person the Royalty and Priest-hood. The Pope's Yoke is more grievous than that of any Christian Prince upon Earth; nor is there a Trace of Property, or Felicity, or of the Religion of Jesus Christ found in the Dominions of this Father of Christendom; all is Ignorance, Bigotry, Idolatry, Barbarity, Hunger, Chains, and every Species of Misery. And the Caliphs of Egypt, who founded the Saracen Empire there, and maintain'd it for a great while, were at once Kings and Priests, and there never lived more raging Bigots, or more furious and oppressive Barbarians. The Monarchy of Persia, which is also a severe Tyranny, has the Priesthood annex'd to it, and the Sophy is at the same time the Caliph. The Turkish Religion is founded on Imposture, blended with outrageous and avowed Violence, and by their Religion the Imperial Establishment is, next to their Alcoran, the moſt ſacred Thing amongſt them: And though he is not himſelf Chief Prieſt, yet he names and nominates him to Places, and is without the Name of Muſti, the chief Doctor, or ſtarted Author of their Religion; and we all know what Sort of a Religion it is.

In fact, as Arbitrary Princes want a Religion ſuited to the Genius of their Power, they model their Religion ſo as to ſerve all the purpoſes of Tyranny, and deteſt, corrupt, diſcourage, or perſecute all Religion which is againſt Tyranny, as all true Religion is: For this reaſon, not one of the Great Abſolute Princes in Europe embraced the Reformation, nor would ſuffer his People to embrace it; but they were all bitter and profeſſed Enemies to it: Whereas all the great Free States, except Poland, and moſt of the ſmall Free States, became Proteſtants. Thus the Engliſh, Swiſs, the Dutch, the Bohemians, and Sweden and Denmark, (which were then Free Kingdoms) the greateſt part of Switzerland, with Geneva, and all the Hans-Towns, which were not awed by the Emperor, threw off the Popiſh Yoke: And not one of the Free Popiſh States out of Italy, could be ever brought to receive the Inquiſition; and the State of Venice, the greateſt Free State there, to ſhew that they received it againſt their Will, have taken wiſe care to render it ineffectual: And many of the Popiſh Free States would never come into Perſecution, which they knew would impoveriſh and diſpeople them; and therefore the States of Arragon, Valencia, and Catalonia, oppoſ'd, as much as they were able, the Expulſion of the Moors; which was a pure Act of Regal Power, to the undoing of Spain; and therefore a deſtructive and barbarous Act of Tyranny. As to the Proteſtant Countries, which have ſince loſt their Liberties, there is much miſerable Ignorance, and much bitter and implacable Bigotry, but little Religion, and no Charity amongſt them.

We look upon Montezuma, and other Tyrants, who worſhiped God with Humane Sacrifices, as ſo many Monſters, and hug our Selves, that we have no ſuch Sons of Moloch here in Europe; not conſidering, that every Man put to death for his Religion, by the Inquiſition and elſewhere, is a Real Humane Sacrifice; as it is Burning and Butchering Men for God's ſake.

I think no body will deny but that in King James's Time, we ow'd the Preſervation of our Religion to our Liberties, which both our Clergy and People almoſt unanimouſly conour'd to defend, with a Reſolution and Boldneſs worthy of Britons and Freemen. And as the Cauſe and Bleſſings of Liberty are ſtill better underſtood, its Spirit and Intereſt do daily increaſe. Moſt of the Biſhops, and many of the Inferiour Clergy, are profeſſedly in the Principles of Civil and Religious Liberty, notwithſtanding the ſtrong and early Prejudices of Education. And I hope ſoon to ſee them all as thorough Advocates for publick Liberty, as their Predeceſſors were, upon Grounds leſs juſt, in the times of Popery; and then there will be an end of the Pernicious and Unreaſonable Diſtinction of Whig and Tory: and all the World will unite in paying them that Reſpect which is due to their Holy Office.

I ſhall conclude with this ſhort Application, That as we love our Religion, and the Author of it, we ought to love and preſerve our Liberties.

I am, SIR,

Your Humble Servant,

CATO.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS.

ALL our Accounts of the State of the Peſtilence are favourable, except from Provence; where, in ſome ſmall Places, it rather increaſes than diminiſhes: But if they may be credited, their Condition in general is ſo much altered to Advantage, that in all Probability a few Months may wholly free them from that dreadful Calamity they have ſo long groan'd under.——The Congreſs of Cambray is now in ſo much Forwardneſs that there wants but little more than the Preſence of the British Miniſters, who are alſo preparing to go thither, in order to it's being fully form'd, and to their entring upon Buſineſs.—— A Breach with the Turks ſeems unavoidable, and the Venetians particularly are making the neceſſary Preparations in as full a Manner as if the War was actually declar'd.——The Muſcovites grow more and more uneaſy to the Poles, and the Proſpect on that ſide is far from ſuch as could be wiſh'd by thoſe who are concern'd for preſerving the Tranquility of Europe.

LONDON.

ON Thurſday laſt night laſt died at his Seat in Newbery, near Briſtol, in Glouceſterſhire, the Right Honourable the Earl of Suffolk and Berkſhire, Lord Lieutenant of the County of Eſſex, in the 26th Year of his Age: His Lordſhip dying without Iſſue, is ſucceeded in his Honour and Eſtate by his Brother the Honourable Charles Howard, Eſq; Groom of the Bed-chamber.

We hear, that Mr. O'Neil is choſen Member of Parliament for Chipping-Wycombe, in the County of Bucks, in the Room of Sir John Wyrewing, Bart. deceaſed.

His Majeſty has been pleaſed to grant in Commendam, to the Right Reverend the Lord Biſhop of St. Aſaph, the Place and Dignity of a Prebendary of the Collegiate Church of St. Peter, Weſtminſter, which became vacant by the Death of Dr. Bene.

Laſt Week was Launched three Ships built by the Eaſt-India Company, for their Service in India, as Guard ſhips and Conſorts, viz. the Fort St. George, Capt. Brice, the Bombay, Capt. Smith, and the Bengall, Capt. Jarden.

Some of the Adventurers in the Engliſh Stock of the Royal African Company, not having made their two laſt Payments of 4 l. and 3 l. per Cent. due upon their Stock, according to the Terms of the Engagement, the Court of Aſſiſtants have reſolved that a Bill in Chancery be exhibited againſt ſuch as ſhall not have made their ſaid Payments on or before the laſt Day of this Month.

We hear, a Bill is ordered into the Houſe of Commons, for laying a Penalty on Perſons who ſhall preſume to perſonate others, and thereby ſell and Transfer Stock which was none of their Property, a Practice which has been lately carried on.

On Sunday Night laſt about 11 a Clock, a Gentleman forced a Woman into the Bedford Head Tavern in Taviſtock-ſtreet. The Vintner knew the Gentlewoman, as living in the Neighbourhood, and finding ſhe was greatly abuſed, would draw no Wine for them, but ſent for a Conſtable to be ſure for, who carried the Gentleman to the Round-Houſe, where he was ſecured that Night; and the next Morning carried before Juſtice Price, where he would not own his Name, or give any Account of himſelf, however he was committed to the Gate-Houſe, and is ſince bailed out.

The following Robberies have been committed in the Streets, ſince our laſt, viz. On Tueſday Night, a Soap-Boylers Servant was ſet upon by ſome Foot-Pads in Drury Lane, who plunder'd him of what Money he had and abuſed him very much.

The ſame Night a Poſt Woman, whoſe Walk is in Holbourn, was attack'd by ſome of the Ruffians near St. Paul's Church; and as ſhe had not much to loſe, they carried off her Head Cloths, and the Handkerchief which ſhe had about her Neck.

On Saturday Night laſt, a Woman was knockt down in Whitcomb Street near Leiceſter Square, and her Pocket cut off, wherein was 14 Shillings. Much about the ſame Time, and near that Place, a Nymph of the Hundreds of Drury was attack'd and loſt her Pocket, but as ſhe had not with no Game that Night the Loſs was not great, the whole amounting to no more than 5 Farthings.

The ſame Night Two Men paſſing through Pannier Alley in Newgate-ſtreet, were joſtled by a Fellow, who had Dexterity enough to lighten one of their Fobbs of a Watch, which he carried off. A Lawyer happening to come by juſt at that Inſtant, was ſeiz'd and charged with the Fact, but being well known there about, the wrongfully Gentleman was ſoon ſatisfied of his Character, and begg'd Pardon for his charging him wrongfully.

We hear, that a Gentleman of the Guards, of known Judgment and Ingenuity in Painting, and Works of that Kind, has lately diſcover'd a wonderful Improvement in the Art of Weaving Tapiſtry, which gives ſuch a Perfection to the ſame, as performs Face Painting and other Species of Pictures not much ſhort of the Pencil. Some Specimens of this Kind that are handed about Town, give univerſal Satisfaction.

A few days ago, a poor Waſher-woman returning from Weſtminſter, whither ſhe had been to receive the Fruits of her Labour, and coming under White-Hall Gate, was attack'd by two Rogues, who from ſome Circumſtances were adjudged to know the Woman, and be apprized of her Buſineſs, and throwing her Head with great violence againſt the Wall, laid her for dead, then made off with her Pocket, and ſome other things.

We hear ſome new Demoliſhments will be ſhortly made at Chelſea-Hoſpital, and that the Windows of the ſame will be all Saſhed.

'Tis ſaid that Ten Pounds has been paid here per Ship, and a Hundred Pounds at Briſtol, for diſcharging them from Quarantine, which only one Shilling ought to be taken by the Officers, and no more, which is a moſt notorious Impoſition.

Laſt Week ſeven thouſand eight hundred Ounces of Foreign Silver, and one thouſand ninety three of Gold were Entered for Exportation to Holland.

On Monday his Majeſty came to the Houſe of Peers, and gave the Royal Aſſent to the following Acts, viz. to the Malt Act: To an Act for taking off the Duty on Salt uſed in curing Red Herrings, and laying the ſame on Red Herrings, cruſhed at Home only: To an Act to enable his Majeſty to prohibit prohibit Commerce with any Nation infected with the Plague: To an Act for repealing several Clauses in the Quarantine Act: To the Act for the further Encouragement of the importation of Naval Stores: To the Act for altering the Form of the Quakers Affirmation: To the Portugal Merchants Act: To the Act for repairing the Pier of Bridgeport: To an Act for building an Exchange at Bristol: To several Acts for better repairing the Highways, and also to some other publick and private Acts.

The Post Letters from Falmouth of the 8th Instant says, that a Ship from Barbadoes for London, Capt. Mitchel, was put come in there, which brings Advice, that his Majesty's Ship the Weymouth of 50 Guns, was taken on the Coast of Guinea by two Pyrate Ships commanded by one Roberts, whereof one carried 40 Guns and the other 38.

Three several Fires broke out last Week in the Town of St. Albans, one on Tuesday Night on Holloway Hill, another on Thursday Night in School house Lane, and another on Saturday last, at Alderman Caster's Brewhouse: Considerable Damage was done by all the Three, but chiefly by the last. The House where the first happen'd was attempted to be broke open on the Three foregoing Nights successively, and is therefore believed to be designedly fired, in order to be plunder'd; and the better to succeed in their villainous Attempt, the Rogues had cut off the Well Rope from the Bucket.

Sir Thomas Abney, our eldest Alderman, who died in the 83d Year of his Age, has been privately Inter'd, according to his Desire at St. Peter's in Cornhill, where his first Lady, and Eight of his Children are also buried. He past'd thro' the highest Offices of this City with universal Applause, and his Mayoralty, Anno 1700. was so magnificent, that the next Year the Citizens chose him one of their Representatives in Parliament, without his seeking; a Compliment not common in this Age. He was charitable without distinction of Parties, and truly Religious without Superstition or Bigotry. As a Magistrate, an Husband, a Parent, a Master or Friend, he hath left (we fear) but few Equals behind him. He lived generally belov'd, and died universally lamented.

We hear that Captain Rowe, who had such Success with Diving Engines last Summer at the Isle of May, as to fish up to the Value of several Thousands of Pounds, will Sail in the Henrietta Yacht, (as soon as the Weather is settled and fit for it) to the Lizard, in order to fish upon a Galeon that was lost there many Years ago: It seems the Persons concerned flatter themselves with Success in this Undertaking, as having a Man with them, who was at the taking Plate out of that Wreck about 10 Years ago.

We hear, that a Schoolmaster at Deptford, has been detected in cutting off the Stamps from old Writings, and affixing them to other Parchments, and that he is absconded for the same.

'Tis reported that his Majesty's Ships Roe-Buck and Gibraltar will be soon commissiond, and that the Lord Muskary will be appointed to Command one of them.

A Ship has been lost near Swansey, which our Merchants have ground to believe is the Victory of London.

The Smugglers, whose Numbers have greatly decreas'd of late, still continue to meet with great interruption in their ruinous Trade, for but on Saturday last, a Seizure was made of a great quantity of Coffee, 'tis said three thousand weight.

'Tis talk'd as if the South-Sea Company would be enabled to dispose of the Effects in their Hands, by way of Lottery or Subscription, in order to pay the Debts of the said Company.

Dr. Hunt is chosen Master of Balliol College in Oxford, in the Room of Dr. Baron, lately deceased.

Early on Monday Morning the Lord Polwarth set out for Dover, on his Way to Paris: from whence he will soon proceed to the Congress at Cambray, to which Robert Sutton, Esq; is appointed Secretary.

Colonel Armstrong, Chief Engineer of Great-Britain, is appointed Surveyor General of his Majesty's Ordnance, &c. in the Room of Brigadier Richards, lately deceased.

Last Week the Company of the Griffin Privateer, were paid the Wages due to them, at the Pay Office in Broad-Street. And his Majesty's Ship the Panther, hath been reduced to her middle Complement of Men; those who have been discharged from her, were this Week paid at Portsmouth.

Notwithstanding the Lords Abdicate from Paris, yet is the Bill preferring Barbaris, and if the Letters we receive from thence may be credited, he has lately made some fresh Proposals in relation to their Popes Affairs, which it is said, have been approv'd of, and that he has a fair Conduct to go thither for a Month or Two: But it is highly abhorr'd to imagine that he will be able to bring the Pretender out of that Ruin which he has prophesied them into.

Some Persons of Note were last Week enter'd into the Society of Free-Masons, at Truelove's in St. Paul's Church-yard. As the Orders observed amongst them have been hitherto kept Secret, it is believ'd they had not been so considerable, or numerous, but from the Curiosity of many who would not learn their Customs any other way, than by an Admission into their Company. We hear that a Treatise is likely soon to appear Abroad, wherein the Author undertakes to prove, that the Gypsies are a Society of much longer standing than that of the Free-Masons.

On Monday the 11th Instant, the Right Honourable James Lord Waldgrave of Chewton, qualified himself to enjoy his Privilege of sitting and voting in Parliament (being bred in a Roman Catholick) and took his Seat accordingly in the House of Peers, as a Baron, being introduced between the Lord Delaware and the Lord Trynham.

Tis said two other Roman Catholick Peers are about to renounce the Errors of the Romish Church.

A Bill of Indictment is found against one Sam. White, commonly called Black White, a noted Gamester, for insulting one of his Majesty's Justices of the Peace for the Liberty of Westminster, in the Execution of his Office.

We hear that Mr. West, (Standing Council to the Board of Trade and Planta ions, has lately had his Salliary augmented to Five Hundred Pounds per Annum.

Sir Samuel Garrard succeeds Sir Thomas Abney, deceased, as Alderman of Bridge Ward, which Privilege belongs to the eldest Alderman.

The Names of all the Ships taken by the Pyrates for five Years last past, with a particular Account of every one that has been destroy'd by them, or otherwise treated in any extraordinary and barbarous Manner:

The Widdah. The Kent. The George. The Dolphin, destroy'd by the Pyrates. The Ludlow. The Mary. The Henry and John. The Weymouth. The Sea Nymph. The Ann Galley. The Dorer. The Berkley. The Tanner Frigate, this they stript of all her Goods and Ship Materials, as Guns, Anchors, Cables, &c. murthered some of her Men, and set the Ship on Fire, and left her burning. The Sarah Sloop. The Samuel. The Buck Sloop, this was carry'd off by the Pyrates, and burnt on the Coast of Guinea. The Betty. The Margaret. The Emperor. The Neptune. The Minerva. The Bridge Town. The Kingston. The Eagle. The Pearle. The Mary. The Alexander. The London. The Crowen. The King of Prussia. The Protestant. The Coulson. The Society. A Sloop. Two Sloops. The Charlotte. The John Galley. They write from Vienna, That 'tis apprehended the Turk deſigns to bend his formidable Power againſt the Iſland of Malta, and accordingly the Knights have ſent to beg aſſiſtance from the Viceroys of Sicily and Naples, and 'tis hoped that little Bulwark of Europe will not be neglected.

Mr. Knight is now actually at Naples, but his Reſidence in ſo fine, pleaſant and healthful a City will not be long, for it will never be permitted to ſo flagrant an Offender to enjoy ſuch a ſweet Retreat.

Upon a Meeting of the Bank and South-Sea Directors, according to the Powers of Truſt given them, by their reſpective Companies, we hear, that the Bank hath declared South Sea Stock to be intrinſically worth no more than 94. but that for the preſerving of Trade and Publick Credit, they are willing, in purſuance of their Contract, to give 104. or thereabouts. But if South Sea Stock is really worth more, no doubt but the Company will demonſtrate it.

Letters from Vienna inform us, that the Emperor is about to erect a College of Admiralty, in favour of the Eaſt-India Company, of which a Neapolitan is to be Admiral, and Lord Forbes Vice Admiral. The Company are to have very extenſive Privileges granted to them.

IF Your Vote and Interest are desired for Sir NICHOLAS CAREW, Bart.
AND
who have been unanimously agreed upon to stand for Knights of the Shire for the County of Surrey for the ensuing Election, by a much greater Number of Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders, from all Parts of the said County, who met at Epsom on Monday the 18th Instant, than ever were known to meet on the like Occasion.

To the Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders of the County of Surry. Your Vote and Interest is desired for
The Rt. Hon. the Lord BALTIMORE
And
HENRY TEMPLE, Esq;
being Unanimously agreed on to stand Candidates for the said County, at the next election, by a very great Number of Gentlemen who met at Epsom.

WHEREAS for about Twenty Years, the Publick Prints, and the Whole Nation has been nauseated and surfeited with the continued noise of Tipping's Liquor, a pretended Dissolver for Stone and Gravel in Human Bodies, and of late, amongst others. Three notorious Pretenders to perform the Cures aforesaid, are sprung up by more invisible means than Pumpions or Mushrooms from a Dunghill, the true reason why they have not yet obtained any Name; nor does it appear by their stalking shifting Tricks of placing their pretended Nostrums at Coffee Houses and Tea Shops, (a Method altogether as ridiculous as their Nameless Author's vain, empty, lying, contradictory Pretence) that they desire any.

To undeceive therefore the Publick, and that those Cheating Mountebanks may no longer pick their Pockets, nor destroy their Health and Lives, we desire the Readers of those kind of Quack Advertisements, to consider the apparent Inconsistence and Incoherence of those, which follow, viz.

One of these called his Tinctura Mirifica, or a Miraculous Tincture; but does not allow that all Stones can be dissolved, and what he pretendeth to dissolve, to come away bit by bit; the latter, if true, is opposite unto Dissolution, the former gives the Muricle-monger the Lye. Miracles (when there is any) always surmounting all Difficulties.

A second cries the Pope, and calls his an Infallible Cure for the Stone and Gravel, Saith his cannot be paralel'd; (Query, whether he strength his own Ignorance or Impudence) as Stone Dissolvent, we shall leave him to Cure his Infallible Brethren, the Pope and College of Cardinals, and advise our Country-men, who resort to Jacob's Coffee-House, rather to trouble themselves with a Dish of Coffee, than meddle with that which is no Medicine, nay has any Author besides an Advertisement to support it.

The Third is to be found amongst Mr. Lockyer's other Toys and Trifles, a mere Bauble, and a Bat Contradiction to its very Name and Pretences; and we challenge the whole Tribe of them to demonstrate that they, or any of them have ever Cured any one Creature of the Stone, which if they could, they ought to fall under the Cognizance of the Civil Magistrate, to be dealt with as Cheats and Impostors.

Now in Pity to the Publick we in the next Place Address us unto the worthy Body of the Chirurgeons, whom we revere as a very useful Part of the British Community, that for the future they would forbear the dangerous Operation of Cutting for the Stone, we having (by the Blessing of Almighty God) attained a perfect, certain and absolute safe Method of dissolving and bringing away all and all Manner of Stones and Gravel, whether in the Kidneys or Bladder of human Bodies, by a natural, safe and pleasant Medicine (by Miracle) which dissolves any Stone of any Magnitude or Density into its first Principles of Slime and Sand, as soft as Fullers Earth dissolved, and since we are well apprized of many who dogmatically affect the Impossibility of what we advance, because they are ignorant how to do it, we challenge all Mankind to disprove its Verity, or to prove that they or any of them can do it; nulli vim facimus for any to deny the Possibility of Nature, because it is hid from their Eyes, as it would be for a blind Man to assert that there's no such Thing in Nature as a Sun or Candle, because they have not Eyes to see the Light of either: However, we having more at Heart (in this Case) the Publick Good than our private Interest, do freely offer those worthy Gentlemen aforesaid, That if they or any of them, within the Kingdom of Great Britain or Ireland, shall send us any indigent poor People, whom they are well assured by searching them that they have the Stone, we do promise that having their or any of their Letters with such Patient in that behalf, even as many as shall be so sent unto us, by the Blessing of Almighty God, we will cure them gratis; and as for all such who shall be hardy enough to oppose us, we are at all Times ready to make Demonstration of what we assert, which leaves no Room for Cavil. To be heard of at any Time at Mr. Poisson's the Sun in Fo ster Lane.

Given under our Hands the 24th of February, 1721.
Thomas Taylor,
Joseph Cale.
